

Privacy Policy – Solitaire Prime Ltd.

At Solitaire Prime Ltd., we are committed to protecting the privacy of our visitors and clients. We have implemented advanced security measures to ensure that all client data is maintained in a secure environment. This privacy policy outlines how personal and sensitive information is collected, used, stored, and safeguarded by Solitaire Prime Ltd. when you visit our website, interact with our platforms, or open a live or demo trading account.

By creating an account with Solitaire Prime Ltd., you give your consent for the collection and processing of your personal and sensitive personal information. We collect this data for legitimate business purposes, including account setup, regulatory compliance, transaction execution, client support, and communication. By using our services, you acknowledge and agree to the terms outlined in this policy.

When applying for or maintaining an account, we may collect information including, but not limited to, your name, date of birth, address, nationality, identification documents (such as passport or national ID), proof of address, financial and employment information, contact details, trading experience, and source of funds. We may also collect technical data such as IP address, device type, browser settings, and access logs when you interact with our platforms.

Once your account is approved, you will be issued a unique account number. This information, along with your account credentials, is securely stored and protected. Solitaire Prime Ltd. will never disclose your personal information to unauthorized third parties. Access is granted only to qualified personnel or third-party providers working under strict confidentiality obligations. Your data is used to provide services, ensure regulatory compliance, process deposits and withdrawals, and to enhance your overall trading experience.

If you choose not to provide the requested personal information or if the information is incomplete, we may not be able to provide services or process your account. Inaccurate or outdated information must be corrected immediately, as Solitaire Prime Ltd. will not be held responsible for any consequences resulting from incorrect data provided by the client.

We may disclose information to regulators, legal authorities, compliance partners, and third-party service providers where required by law or for operational efficiency. We do not sell, lease, or distribute your personal data for commercial purposes. Data shared with third parties is done so under strict contractual obligations ensuring privacy and security.

We use cookies and similar technologies to track and analyze user activity on our website. These tools help us improve functionality, monitor performance, and ensure secure access. You may choose to disable cookies through your browser settings; however, this may limit some features of our website or platform.

Solitaire Prime Ltd. uses industry-standard firewalls, data encryption, secure socket layer (SSL) protocols, and multi-factor authentication tools to protect your information. Our systems are continuously monitored for vulnerabilities and are regularly updated to comply with international data protection standards. Clients are encouraged to follow best practices when using online platforms, such as using strong passwords, avoiding public Wi-Fi, and logging out after each session.

Personal information is retained only for as long as necessary to meet regulatory, legal, and operational requirements. Once no longer needed, the data is securely destroyed or anonymized. Clients have the right to access their personal data, request updates or deletions, and withdraw consent for certain uses, subject to legal limitations.

Solitaire Prime Ltd. is fully compliant with applicable data protection laws and financial regulations, including KYC (Know Your Customer) and AML (Anti-Money Laundering) obligations. We also align with global privacy principles, including GDPR, where applicable. Clients who do not wish to receive marketing communications can opt out at any time by notifying us via email.
